Introduction

The Live Art Garden Initiative's This Week books are published annually and the 2009 edition is the 4th since the project commenced in 2006. This Week content is first published on the Initiative's website and prior to the annual production and release of the print-format books.

The curatorial brief for This Week content is for images or text-based work to be 'timely', either in relation to private or public events, or issues, of the week. It is intended that the content created by the associate artists of the Initiative and submitted in any one week is web-published therein too. Online the project can be viewed here: www.liveartgardeninitiative.org.uk/thisweek.html

Lauren Goode, artist and project director of the Initiative conceived the This Week project, both its online and print publication dimensions, and is its most frequent contributor.

"...I'm as old as the clouds..."

"...I accuse myself of always wanting the impossible..."

[... with Jalal Toufic – 20 January 2009]

"...I turn on the radio and I'm struck by an uncanny moment. A journalist is describing a film narrative in which, as the leading character ages, the pathway of his life becomes more and more certain, narrow and closed – a pathway towards its ultimate finality. Only a few seconds before turning the radio on I had just been randomly daydreaming and had thought how, actually, even as one ages, and just as always, thankfully the vast indeterminacy remains – awareness of different corners and tracks, different lights and hues, that one hadn't seen before open up... I had thought of a dear friend who lives in this way, willing of the greeting with the fateful moment..."

My position?

Artist: Lauren Goode

I am advised that I must define my position...

Here goes then:

My position, if one insists on that, I'd like to say, is of the non-dimensional aleatory point.

'Once upon, upon...'

Writer: Lauren Goode

Once upon, upon,
Upon a hill, there,
Ahoy there, ahoy,
There a question sat upon a stone,
Until it rolled away... in the red rain – Oh!

Once upon upon, upon, again, again the same, but with a little less pain, and then there was your name in the beautiful frame.

Once upon, a story then, a story then and not without history, and not without mystery.

Once, then, in a village?
In a town? In a city? No.
In a vase, under a hat, above a cloud? Aloft? No.
In the corner of an eye, on the tip of a nose? No.
'What then, where then?', I hear you say.
Of a kitten or a mitten?

Of a mish and a mash, I say
A crash and a clash, and a mad mad dash,

And an incredible, incredible, incredible splash,
A splosh, a gerlosh, a splosh-a-tee splosh-a-tea ...Sponge cake!
Yes, Sponge cakes – they are so useful, so convenient, at a time,
A time, like this,
When tomatoes might do, but, of course, never offer the frightful delight of the Sponge cake – the sponge-snake
...a little opaque if it's not my mistake, my mistake,
My miss-take, my steak, yes, that is my steak, there... is much at stake, there are lots to take, plots to bake, so, do not overtake...
Have another piece of snake-cake.

Oh, was that a quake, no no, that was just fake – it was a lake,
A lake, I saw, on the dancing sunlight and after the fright, and after the Sprite
Which Sprite, I heard you say, I a-heard you a-whispering.
The Sprite with the stone and with the endearing tone, and lacking a phone, but not alone,
Accompanied by such a dear sparkle-eyed winter Gnome – one for every home – a little winter Gnome
An engraver... engraving a question upon a stone, upon a tone.
